

What we do

Save the Children is one of Australia's largest aid and development agencies dedicated to helping children. We work in Australia and overseas to protect children from harm and help them access quality education and health services.

Humanitarian: In 2013, we responded to more than 25 humanitarian crises and reached 1.4 million children and adults. Our responses included Typhoon Haiyan in the Philippines and the Syrian conflict, as well as flooding and bushfires in Australia.

Education: We help all children access quality education, no matter where they live. Our work includes improving the quality of schools in Pakistan, educating children in immigration detention in Nauru, and improving school attendance in remote Australia.

Health: We provide basic healthcare for the world's most vulnerable children and train health workers in newborn and maternal care. We also treat children for preventable disease like pneumonia, diarrhoea, malaria and measles.

Protection: Our child protection programs strengthen families and communities so they can safely care for their children. In Australia this includes parenting programs, refuges and keeping kids off the streets. Overseas we support both rural and urban communities to protect children from abuse.

Five

Australian emergencies responded to, including bushfires and floods in New South Wales, Tasmania, Victoria and Queensland.

2,876

Afghani girls and women educated in Uruzgun Province, Afghanistan.

32,200

Cambodian women and children accessed essential healthcare through our programs.

89%

of children in our Kununurra programs in Western Australia felt safer thanks to our night patrol program.

Where we work

A history of saving lives

With more than 90 years' experience, we are at the forefront of saving children's lives when disasters strike, and creating lasting change for children and their families through our long-term development programs.

As an independent organisation, we are not affiliated with any religious or political organisation.

Key stats

Thanks to the generous support of our donors, supporters and partners, together we are helping to make a positive change for millions of children who need it most.

A total of 12.1 million people reached through health, education, protection and humanitarian programs.

2,674 active volunteers generously gave 157,437 hours

Children and adults we've reached

- Australia 84,000
- Pacific 616,962
- Africa 340,321
- South East Asia 2,918,479
- South Central Asia 8,204,917
- Middle East 21,272

20% of our Australian-based employees are Indigenous

Total income $103 million

7% spent on administration

Where the $ came from

Where the $ went

Program expenditure

Save the Children Australia

Save the Children Australia belongs to the 30-member organisation that forms Save the Children International. We share a global vision and strategy for ensuring better lives for children worldwide. Save the Children Australia's international programs, except for those in the Pacific, are implemented through Save the Children International.

For more information, read our 2013 Annual Report at savethechildren.org.au

Save the Children Australia is a member of the Australian Council for International Development (ACFID) and a signatory to its Code of Conduct. The Code requires members to meet high standards of corporate governance, public accountability and financial management.

Save the Children Australia is fully accredited by the Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade, the Government agency responsible for managing Australia's overseas aid program.

National office: Level 6, 250 Victoria Pde, East Melbourne VIC 3002

ABN 99 008 610 035

twitter.com/savechildrenaus

facebook.com/SaveTheChildrenAustralia

youtube.com/SavetheChildrenAus

1800 76 00 11

savethechildren.org.au